DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-3, 5 and 7, drawn to a method of topical scar treatment or prophylaxis using a medical applicator and /or packaging device for the topical application that comprises a mixture of silicon fluids.

Group II, claim(s) 4,6 and 8-9, drawn to a medical applicator and/or packaging device comprising a mixture of silicone fluids.

The invention listed as Group I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature which is referred to Annex B of Appendix A1 of the MPEP(Administrative Instructions under the PCT, "Unity of Invention"). Unity exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The express "special technical features" is defined as meaning those technical features that define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art."(Rule 13.2). The question of unity of invention has been reconsidered retroactively by the examiner in view of the search performed; a review of US5902592 makes clear that the claimed species is not novel over the prior art (the instantly claimed silicone mixture). US'592 teaches a mixture of silicone gum, fluids(volatile and non-volatile) and wax that is used in the formulating a make-up product, see example 1. Furthermore, these references appear to demonstrate that the claimed species does not define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. Accordingly, the prior art of the record supports restriction of the claimed subject matter in to the groups as mentioned immediately above.

Conclusion

2. No claims is allowed.
3. All pending claims are subject to the restriction requirement.
